Seminar “Introduction to Moral Economies – theoretical and methodological approaches”

Winter Semester 2016/2017
Tuesdays, 2 pm – 3.30 pm, MPI Human Development, Room 111

Moral Economy – the “classical canon”?

25.10.

1.11.

8.11.
with Thomas Lindner

PhD Projects of Cohort IV, IMPRS Moral Economies

14.11. Julia Lieth
The experience of lovesickness and its relation to religion in late eighteenth-century Germany

22.11. Frederik Schröer
Re-assembling the feeling community: The transformation of Tibetan Buddhist ethics in India, 1930-1970

1.12. (Thursday, 10.30 am - noon) Lena Eggers
Soldiers’ clubs in post-war Berlin. Spaces of pleasure or immorality?

8.12. (Thursday, 2-3.30 pm) Anna Borrero
Shifting attitudes toward soldiers in US-American society from the Vietnam War to the War on Terror

13.12. Marius Oesterheld
Idlers and productive citizens: the moralization of work in China 1900-1930

20.12. Britt Schlünz
For being true and right: science and religion in global ideological warfare. Case studies of Germany, the United States and Mexico in late nineteenth century.
Seminar “Introduction to Moral Economies – theoretical and methodological approaches”

Winter Semester 2016/2017
Tuesdays, 2 pm – 3.30 pm, MPI Human Development, Room 111

Moral Economies in context

10.1. with Marvin Menniken

17.1. with Alexandra Esche

24.1. with Sören Brandes

31.01. with Paul Franke and Till Großmann
Pre-circulated papers (deadline: 27.1.):
- Common paper by Björn Blaß, Paul Franke, Till Großmann and Thomas Rohringer on moral economies.
- Statements by PhD students of Cohort IV (0,5 to 2 pages) on possible definitions/ approaches they could use for their projects.

Moral Economies and the IMPRS – critical reflections

14.2. End-of-semester - meeting